Testimonial for Compass Computers

We have been working closely with Compass Computers for a number of years and asked them to create some bespoke software that we could use within our business. We had a number of specific requirements for all aspects of the system. It had to be simple to use, clear for both drivers and customers to understand, flexible so we could tailor information to the specific requirements of our individual customers and also have the invoicing system linked into it.

Compass set about building this for us asking questions to determine our exact requirements. A couple of months later the system was ready to trial and fulfilled everything it was asked to do. Following a few tweaks we were more than happy to use this as our exclusive booking system. It was vitally important that this went smoothly as the booking system is a key part of the communication with our customers.

Compass computers have produced a fantastic piece of software that is far superior to booking systems available "off the peg". We are continually modifying the system to improve it and Compass Computers do this promptly and without complaint.

I would not hesitate to recommend Compass Computers to any business looking for bespoke software to solve a problem or enhance their work.
